

FRONT PAGE POLITICS

WND

Trump tweets: 2.7 million votes erased nationwide

Blames Dominion Voting Systems used in 28 statesBy WND Staff

Published November 12, 2020 at 5:27pm

President Donald J. Trump walks from the South Portico entrance of the White House to speak to reporters Saturday, Sept. 19, 2020, before boarding Marine One to begin his trip to Fayetteville, North Carolina. (Official White House photo by Tia Dufour)

Amid legal challenges in several battleground states alleging vote fraud, President Trump dropped a bomb Thursday with a tweet claiming 2.7 million votes for him across the nation were deleted through Dominion Voting Systems machines.

The tweet cited a report by One American News that attributed the claim to an "unaudited analysis of data obtained from Edison Research."

OAN did not name the author of the analysis, which the television network said found that 221,000 votes had been switched from Trump to Joe Biden. States using the Dominion systems switched 435,000 votes from the Republican to the Democrat, the report said.

Larry Rosin, the president of Edison Research, told WND in an email that he has no knowledge of the "analysis."

"Edison Research has produced no such report and we are not aware of any voter fraud," he said.

"REPORT: DOMINION DELETED 2.7 MILLION TRUMP VOTES NATIONWIDE. DATA ANALYSIS FINDS 221,000 PENNSYLVANIA VOTES SWITCHED FROM PRESIDENT TRUMP TO BIDEN. 941,000 TRUMP VOTES DELETED. STATES USING DOMINION VOTING SYSTEMS SWITCHED 435,000 VOTES FROM TRUMP TO BIDEN." @ChanelRion @OANN

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) November 12, 2020

A spokesman for Denver-based Dominion said in a statement to the Denver Post that the company "categorically denies any claims about any vote switching or alleged software issues with our voting systems."

Have millions of votes been erased?

Yes No

Submit

Completing this poll entitles you to WND news updates free of charge. You may opt out at anytime. You also agree to our Privacy Policy and Terms of Use.

"Our systems continue to reliably and accurately count ballots, and state and local election authorities have publicly confirmed the integrity of the process," the spokesman said.

In 2016, however, Andrew Appel, a Princeton professor of computer science and an election security expert, demonstrated on Fox News how a Dominion machine could be hacked to switch votes from one candidate to another.

FLASHBACK: Dr. pic.twitter.com/PHx9eDg7Nt

— The Election Wizard 🧙 (@Wizard_Predicts) November 12, 2020

The Fox Business Network's Lou Dobbs reported the Texas secretary of state in 2019 rejected Dominion because of major flaws in its software.

The company's Democracy Suite 5.5A, which is used in six battleground states and 22 others, is error-prone and non-intuitive, the secretary of state said.

Among the problems were an inability to check and retain straight-party selections, and paper jams that required a seal to be broken to fix.

See Dobbs' report;

Dominion Voting Systems: Toronto based @dominionvoting was rejected by Texas Secretary of State in 2019 for major flaws in their software. Why was it used this election in 6 battleground states and 22 others? #MAGA #AmericaFirst #Dobbs pic.twitter.com/5QYBspy8VA

— Lou Dobbs (@LouDobbs) November 12, 2020

On Wednesday, Trump replied to a tweet asking, "What do we know about Dominion?"

The president said, "It attempted to alter our election and got caught?"

Following up the president's tweet, campaign lawyer Lin Wood promised the evidence of fraud will be convincing.

"Soon, no objective, fair-minded person will be able to deny massive fraud perpetrated in planned, coordinated scheme to steal our Presidency," he wrote.

Wood, who successfully represented Kentucky teen Nicholas Sandmann in a defamation suit against the Washington Post and CNN, explained at a news conference in Atlanta why he joined the president's legal team.

"I was sitting around Tuesday night watching the election returns, I've loved politics all my life, since I first voted in 1972. And I saw what I assumed was going to happen. I saw President Trump building up what I believed was going to be almost an historic landslide victory," Wood said.

"Then all the sudden every network, including Fox News, started doing what they do best – they started lying to the American public. And they took a victory from Donald Trump and they called it a lie," he said.

President Trump's personal lawyer Rudy Giuliani said in an interview this week that a Dominion worker in Michigan provided an affidavit state 100,000 ballots were brought to a vote tabulation center to "catch up with Trump."

A worker for Dominion in Michigan provided an affidavit to @RudyGiuliani stating 100k ballots for Biden were brought in to "catch up with Trump."

For more on this story, watch on PlutoTV 240, Dish 219, Roku, Apple TV, Fire TV, or @EricGreitens pic.twitter.com/W6qRGPejwb

— Real America's Voice (@RealAmVoice) November 12, 2020

Dear WND Reader,

As America's political and culture wars rage, another battle is taking place in the news media.

Google, Facebook and the rest of Big Tech blatantly suppress Christian-conservative content while vacuuming up 90% of the advertising that once supported online news. It's a tough time for truth-oriented journalism.